Headline:
Sunny spells and scattered showers Tuesday. Fine tonight.

Today:
Early cloud thinning and breaking to leave a mostly dry, bright morning. Warm sunny intervals for many by the afternoon, but with some heavy, slow-moving showers, mainly inland. The best of the sunshine near eastern coasts. Light winds. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
Most showers fading away through the evening, then remaining largely dry overnight with partly cloudy skies. Winds remaining light and becoming rather chilly by morning. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Wednesday:
Another fine and bright start. Sunny spells and scattered, slow-moving showers developing late morning onwards, some heavy and locally thundery by the afternoon, especially in the west. Mainly light winds. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Sunny spells and showers each day. A risk of afternoon thundery downpours at times, perhaps with a longer period of rain Thursday. Becoming breezier. Temperatures near normal or rather cool.
